

Bulletin

November 20, 2014

Spotlight

The NLN | Chamberlain College of Nursing Center for the Advancement of the Science of Nursing Education

The NLN | Chamberlain College of Nursing Center for the Advancement of the Science of Nursing Education, is the first national center committed to leadership in building the discipline of nursing through scientific inquiry. The programs and initiatives of the center promote nursing research that examines innovative pedagogy from bio-behavioral, interdisciplinary, and translational perspectives.

Scholarly Writing Retreats

This year-long mentorship experience provides ongoing rigorous review and feedback from writers and editors experienced in the nursing and health sciences publishing world. Beginning the day your application is accepted and encompassing an intensive three-day retreat, the experience helps to refine your scholarly manuscript for submission to a peer-reviewed publication.

Learn more about the scholarly writing retreats »

Nursing Education Research Grants Program

Annual grants and dissertation stipends to NLN members (individuals and faculty of NLN member schools) actively promote rigorous and robust studies that utilize multi-method, multi-site designs.

Learn more about proposal guidelines »

Nursing Education Perspectives

The NLN's peer-reviewed, bi-monthly research journal provides an evidence base for best practices and a forum for the exchange of information regarding teaching and learning curricula, technology, recruitment and retention of students, and other issues important to nursing education. NEP is now accepting simulation manuscripts to be considered for the September/October 2015 special issue. Access the journal or purchase a subscription today.

Did You Know?

In August of 2014, Dr. Betty Pierce Dennis became the inaugural director of the NLN | Chamberlain Center for the Advancement of the Science of Nursing Education.

Dates & Deadlines

December 3

3:00 pm (ET)

"Emotional Intelligence: A Pathway for Becoming a Good to Great Leader" Leadership Webinar

December 4

3:00 pm (ET)

"Strategies for Identifying and Assisting the At-Risk Student" New Faculty Webinar

December 12, 2014

11:59 pm (ET)

NLN Education Summit 2015 Call for Abstracts Deadline

February 5-7, 2015

NLN Leadership Conference - Academic Leadership Excellence: Co-Creating a Collaborative Culture

Complete Listing »

Upcoming Faculty Development Activities

NOV
20
2014

Release of Archived Nursing Education Research Grant FAQ Webinar

This free archived webinar addresses the critical points in submitting NLN research proposals.

Registration and More Information »

2015

2015 Scholarly Writing Retreats Chicago, Denver, Dallas

Rolling admissions for the 2015 Scholarly Writing Retreats are now open.

Application and More Information »

FEB
15
2015

2015 Nursing Education Research Grants

The deadline for proposals is Thursday, February 15, 2015 at 4:00 pm ET.

Application and More Information »

APR
1
2015

2015 NEP Special Issue - Call for Simulation Manuscripts

Submit your simulation manuscript to NEP to be considered for the September/October 2015 special issue on the use of simulation in nursing education.

More Information »

More Resources

2012-2015 NLN Research Priorities in Nursing Education

The NLN advocates for resources to support research in nursing education, and develops, designs, and advances national and international research priorities that have broad-based significance and serve to transform nursing education.

View NLN Research Priorities »

Indiana School of Nursing Online Classes

Through this strategic alliance, IUSON and NLN are offering four online courses for faculty development as a nurse educator.

More Information »

Upcoming Constituent League Events

Visit our State Constituent Leagues calendar to find out about programs offered in your region.

Interested in providing feedback on our new layout?

Email communications@nlm.org and let us know how we can improve on delivering content that meets your needs.

Join the NLN's online community.

